Disk Space Magic is a computer disk space optimization software used to identify and delete files that do not directly contribute to your daily computing activities. Disk Space Magic enables you to detect and then delete these files to save disk space. Free Disk Space Magic 21.4 Description: Free Disk Space Magic is a Free and Open Source application designed to help users with low-spec computers free up some space by revealing the largest files on the drive while categorizing them by their size. Also, the tool's context menu lets you decide the actions you'll take regarding a file or a cluster of them. After the installation is done, a small selection window will pop up. Being a demo version, every folder and partition is grayed-out, meaning that you cannot actually use it for anything else besides desktop items. Still, one can get an idea about what this utility can do even if it cannot scan and process more than a single location. Once a disk/folder is scanned, another layout with the identified files is generated. This panel may look a lot more colorful, and that's because each file is assigned with a color that reflects its actual size. Clicking on any of the results will open up a brief context menu providing a handful of options that allows one to quickly delete the files, refresh the list or open the location in File Explorer. To conclude, Disk Space Magic is indeed a tool that can identify possibly useless files located on your drives. However, the tool didn't really withstand the test of time, as there are many other programs way powerful and complex out there. This entry-level program is an all-in-one utility that can do a number of things related to your computer. Once installed, this small utility will scan all drives on your computer, and will tell you about the total storage space, the amount of free space and the largest files. This tool has the ability to scan both the internal and the external drives, as well as remote locations. Of course, the context menu and the various settings also remain in your control. To start using this utility, just click on it and follow the instructions. As a matter of fact, once done, a simple window will show up with a number of tabs: General, Options, Help, About and Settings. From there, one can choose the drives that you want to scan, the size limit and the type of results that you want to see. You may also change the color theme as well as the fonts. To quickly determine the total available storage space and the free space, click on the first tab. While doing this, a small window will pop up, which will also show a number of settings that include the total amount of available space and the total amount of free space. The biggest part of this utility's interface will be located under the Settings tab. This tab contains a variety of options that will allow you to change the look and feel of the software. Here, you can change the theme of the app and the fonts as well. Also, you can set the size limit and the overall behavior of the utility. Solution: There are only two things we need to check out here: Windows Update and the Event Viewer. 1. Windows Update We first need to make sure that the latest update for Windows is available. This will help us fix a vulnerability that is currently being exploited in the wild. Therefore, we need to navigate to Windows Update and click on Check for Updates. If there are no updates, we need to make sure that they are checked to be sure. If there are updates available, then we need to install them and then restart the system so that it can properly configure itself. 2. Event Viewer The Event Viewer will show you all the events that took place on your PC and also on the network. These events will include the latest programs installed and if there are any viruses that may have infected your system. We will need to first open the Event Viewer by navigating to the Windows icon on the desktop, then selecting the View Event Viewer option. You will then be taken to a list of all of the events that have taken place on your computer in the past. From here, you can further filter down the results by the date and the time
